++ Valid for broadcast between 0600 and 1800

Headline:
Good sunny spells and very warm. Cloudier in the northwest.

Today:
It will be rather cloudy across the Northwest Highlands and Isles with patchy drizzle and a brisk southwesterly breeze. Elsewhere dry with good spells of warm or very warm sunshine, although a cloudy start for some.

Tonight:
A fine evening across much of the country, but low cloud and patchy drizzle continuing to affect the northwest, this becoming more widespread overnight. The east staying dry and clear.

Saturday:
The best of the sunshine in the south and east and very warm again. Cloudier in the north and west with any light rain dying out. Breezy in the north.

Outlook for Sunday to Tuesday:
Staying mainly dry and settled, although a little patchy rain possible, mainly in the north and northwest. Bright or sunny spells developing widely, warm or very warm in any sunshine.
